Prince's Trust Teambuilding Residential.

The demands of Outdoor Training and Development programmes stimulate the use of a wide range of knowledge and skills. Participants will have to draw on their life skills and experience, which are often not recognised as beneficial when used within an organisation.

By being involved in the decision-making processes of a team dealing with problem solving activities, an individual's confidence can be effectively stimulated and developed with challenging tasks. They will experience the personal feelings of success and achievement from completing tasks that on first sight seemed impossible. They will learn new skills and have the opportunity to apply their existing knowledge and skills.

Key Areas used within the Teambuilding Program.

- ? Problem solving using a cooperative approach
- ? Team planning and time management
- ? Effective communication and feedback
- ? Individual and collective commitment
- ? Handling and resolving conflict
- ? Participative decision making
- ? Mutual trust and confidence
- ? Understanding and valuing differences
- ? Cooperative use of resources
- ? Team spirit and mutual support.

Reviewing plays a very important part throughout the residential, as each team differs the review and time for reviewing also differ, therefore session times may alter to allow the reviewing process to be successful.

As each Prince's Trust team differs the residential needs to meet the changing needs of each team.

At the TMC we offer structure to the residential in the timetable but allow the Prince's trust team leader to choose the activities best suited to meet the team's needs.

All the activities listed will also help to develop the personal skills needed for a team to perform well, confidence, trust, self esteem, tolerance and motivation.
